NATO INTERNATIONAL INFORMATION MEETING
12th - 14th April, 1951.

PRESS RELEASE

The Information Service of the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation today concluded a three-day conference with representatives of national information services of the twelve NAT nations.

The series of meetings was opened on Thursday by Ambassador Charles M. Spofford, Chairman of the North Atlantic Council Deputies. He stressed the vital importance to NATO of a full understanding among the peoples of NAT countries of their common effort.

The conference reached agreement on a number of practical problems connected with the wider dissemination of factual information regarding the objectives of the North Atlantic Treaty and the activities of NATO, and exchanged views on the methods to be employed in attaining these objectives.
